

Gain concrete ideas to internationalize your course using Web2.0 tools

Be part of a focus group to develop a new look for Globalization 101

Network with colleagues from around the country who integrate global issues into their syllabi

3rd Annual Globalization101.org Users Workshop

Thursday May 20th, 2010 10am-4pm at

The LEVIN Institute

Special Presentations

- Media2.0 – Media and democracy as taught in an international online English course for SUNY students and students in Belarussia
Hope Windle and Richard Cattabiani of SUNY Ulster
- Blogging – Women and globalization as taught in an African studies course
Jermaine Archer of SUNY Old Westbury
- Global Education – Teaching global citizenship in a special education class
Diana Sukhram of SUNY Old Westbury
- Simulation on Globalization – Amazon and Oil in Ecuador
Pamela Martin of Coastal Carolina University

RSVP by May 13, 2010 to Rebecca Smolar, Globalization101 Project Manager rebecca.smolar@levininstitute.org • 212- 317-3566

The LEVIN Institute
116 E. 55th Street, New York, NY 10022
<http://www.levininstitute.org>